

Felice Bauer was Kafkas first great love and the inspiration for his first great fiction. Six weeks after they met, he wrote The Judgment for her in one night of feverish activity. Kafka always inferred to the traumatic, public breaking-off of their engagement as his tribunal, and indeed he began work on The Trial within a month of that event. Kafkas letters to Felice offer rare insights into the writers life and art. Elias Canettis brilliant and sensitive examination of this moving correspondence to shows is the origins of Kafkas voice as a writer and his torment as a man.
