

The Jewish Heritage

This textbook aims to provide, in accessible form, a full history of Jewish religion and tradition. Within a broad outline of the history and religion of the Jewish people, this volume highlights cultural and spiritual developments which have shaped Jewish self-consciousness through the centuries. Beginning with an account of the history and religion of the ancient Near East, the book focuses on the influence of ancient Near Eastern civilization on the Hebrew scriptures. This discussion is followed by an outline of ancient Israelite history, emphasizing the role of the patriarchs, the exodus from Egypt, the rise of monarchy and the emergence of prophecy. The book then examines later biblical history, the development of Judaism in Hellenistic times, and the emergence of classical Rabbinic literature and theology. The Medieval period in Islamic and Christian lands is also investigated, giving special attention to the rise of Jewish philosophy, theology and mysticism. Turning to the modern period, the rise of Hasidism is examined as is the emergence of religious reform. Finally, the study concentrates on the development of Jewry in the 19th and 20th centuries, and concludes with a discussion of the future of Judaism as a living faith. Through this overview of the Jewish heritage, the reader is asked to approach Judaism in an appreciative spirit - to examine sympathetically its beliefs, doctrines and ideals in an historic context. The book aims to provide both factual information about the development of the Jewish tradition and a survey of a range of Jewish issues through the centuries to the present day.

Generally, in modern secular usage Jews include three groups: people who were born to a Jewish family regardless of whether or not they follow the religion, those who have some Jewish ancestral background or lineage (sometimes including those who do not have strictly matrilineal descent), and people without any Jewish The Jewish Heritage

Museum. of Monmouth County. 310 Mounts Corner Drive. PO Box 7078. Freehold, NJ 07728. Dedicated to the promotion of publicSummer Seminar for Teachers in Catholic Schools: Teaching about Jewish Heritage and the Holocaust. Monday Aug 13 Aug 16, 2018Learning the past, confronting the present, educating the future.Jewish heritage is an integral part of European history and culture. Much of it is rooted in Europe, with a story of migrations, persecutions and precariousnessBring history to life through storytelling, exhibitions, programs & special events at Museum of Jewish Heritage and The National Yiddish Theatre @Folksbiene.The Jewish synagogue in Diemeringen was built in 1867 by the local Jewish community and restored after World War II. The Jewish school was created in 1862The mission of the Museum is to educate people of all ages and backgrounds about the broad tapestry of Jewish life in the 20th and 21st centuries-before,Taking visitors from the 1880s to present day, the Museums Core Exhibition features more than 800 artifacts and 2,000 photographs that illustrate Jewish history(Hebrew: מִיְהוּדִי pronounced [mihu jehu?di]) is a basic question about Jewish identity and considerations of Jewish self-identification. The question is based on ideas about Jewish personhood, which have cultural, ethnic, religious, political, genealogical, and personal dimensions.Copyright 2005 - 2009 The Jewish Heritage For The Blind All Rights Reserved.Free entry with the New York Pass, which includes Museum of Jewish Heritage A Living Memorial to the Holocaust tickets plus admission to 100+ attractionsWelcome to the Jewish Heritage for the Blind, dedicated to servicing and promoting the independence of individuals who are blind or visually impaired. Now, it isPaying tribute to the generations of Jewish Americans who have helped form the fabric of American history, culture and society.Explore the Beauty and Depth of Judaism. Basic Judaism Study Torah in a way that touches the heart and stimulates the mind. Hebrew School WhereModernizing the Jewish community by both providing opportunities for mentorship, networking & professional growth.